EXPLANATORY NOTES

SECTION 1. The Act presently provides that the Minister may, without a certificate issued by the Board, issue a licence for transportation, other than by a tank truck vehicle, of certain material such as sand, gravel, salt, etc. This provision is deleted to the effect that the Minister can issue an operating licence only in accordance with a certificate issued by the Board.

SECTION 2.—Subsection 1. Clause a of subsection 1 of section 5 of the Act is repealed by section 1 of the Bill and accordingly the reference to it is removed from section 6 of the Act.

Subsection 2. Subsection 2 of section 6 of the Act provides that the Board may, in a certificate issued by it, prescribe terms and conditions or approve the conferring by licence of special or limited rights. The proposed amendment makes this authority subject to the new subsection 3 of section 6.

Subsection 3 provides that where the Board issues a certificate approving the conferring of a licence in respect of the transportation of materials like sand, gravel, salt, etc., the approval will refer to prescribed regions and to the maximum number of vehicles which may be operated. The approval shall not restrict the operation to the transportation of materials of specific consignors or consignees. Authority is given to the Board to issue temporary licences.

Subsection 1 of section 5 of the Act gave the Minister the authority to issue licences without Board approval to transport certain specified materials. This authority is being repealed by section 1 of the Bill. The new subsection 6 of section 6 of the Act would preserve the authority in the Minister to issue the licence without Board approval to an applicant who has been licensed to transport the specified materials and applies no later than June 30th, 1976. The new subsection 7 of section 6 of the Act limits the number of vehicles which may be licensed by the Minister under subsection 6. The new subsection 8 of section 6 of the Act provides that in specified circumstances the Board may determine the number of vehicles which may be licensed and sets out the factors that the Board shall consider.

Section 2 inserts a new Part I-A into the Act containing sections 37*b* to 37*i* inclusive.

Section 37*c* provides for the submission of plans for the allocation of gas by gas distributors to the Ontario Energy Board and for procedures for approval by the Board and amendment of plans, and requiring distributors to file information with the Board and, following approval of the plan, to supply gas to their consumers in accordance with the approved plan.

Under section 37*d*, the Board may, after a hearing, direct a distributor to make gas available to another distributor on terms and conditions, including compensation.

Section 37*f* prohibits the purchase of gas except from distributors.

Section 37*g* is self-explanatory.

Section 37*h* prevents the suspension of orders made under this Part pending appeals or applications for judicial review.

Under section 37*i*, the Lieutenant Governor in Council may make regulations prescribing systems of priorities for the supply of gas to be adhered to by distributors, subject to allocation plans approved by orders of the Board and may make regulations respecting any matter necessary or advisable to provide for circumstances where gas distributors cannot supply the requirements of consumers because of supply limitations so as to carry out effectively the intent and purpose of this Part of the Act.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

This Bill amends the Act to provide that condominium and co-operative housing will be assessed on the same basis as owner-occupied single-family dwellings. The Bill also amends section 46 of the Act to provide for certification of the last revised assessment roll, and section 97 of the Act to make its provisions consistent with amendments made to the Act in 1974.

SECTION 1. Section 46 (4) at present reads as follows:

- (4) The Assessment Review Court shall hear and dispose of all appeals in every municipality as soon as practicable.

The amendment provides for the certification of the assessment roll by the regional registrar of the Assessment Review Court when all assessment appeals have been disposed of.

SECTION 2. The new subsection 2 provides that the owners of residential condominium housing and the occupants of suites in a residential building owned by a co-operative housing corporation will be assessed on the same basis as is applicable to owner-occupied single-family residences in the vicinity.

Section 90 which becomes subsection 1 of section 90 sets out the powers of the appeal tribunals in determining the value at which real property shall be assessed. Section 86 provides for the rolls to be returned in 1974 and 1975.

SECTION 3. Section 97 (2) and (7) at present read as follows:

- (2) Notwithstanding section 96, the Lieutenant Governor by his proclamation may name a day earlier than the 1st day of January, 1974 upon which the provisions of this Act referred to in section 96 shall cease to be inoperative and shall come into force in any municipality or territory without municipal organization comprised in a locality named or described in the proclamation, and upon the making of the proclamation such provisions shall cease to be inoperative and shall come into force in the named or described municipality or territory without municipal organization comprised in a locality upon the day named in the proclamation.
- (7) For the purpose of providing an assessment roll for taxation in the year 1974 in any municipality or territory without municipal organization comprised in a locality named or described in a proclamation made under this section, nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prevent the return in the year 1973 in such municipality or territory without municipal organization comprised in a locality of a second assessment roll in accordance with the provisions of this Act that will be in force in such municipality or territory without municipal organization comprised in a locality after the proclamation comes into force.

Subsection 1. The amendments are consequential on amendments made to section 96 of the Act by The Assessment Amendment Act passed in 1974. The substitution of the year 1977 is necessitated by the reference to that year in subsection 2 of section 96.

Condominium

R.S.O. 1970,

(b) by striking out "1974" in the third line and inserting in lieu thereof "1977".

s. 97 (7),
re-enacted

(2) Subsection 7 of the said section 97 is repealed and the following substituted therefor:

An Act to establish The Ontario Bill of Rights

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This Bill will provide for an Ontario Bill of Rights. The Canadian Bill of Rights enacted by the Parliament of Canada in 1960 provides for the protection of certain human rights and fundamental freedoms but its effectiveness is limited by the fact that it operates only within the fields of the federal Parliament's constitutional authority. The Ontario Bill of Rights is intended to provide for the protection of those same human rights and fundamental freedoms so that, in Ontario, those rights and freedoms will have protection in both provincial and federal fields of legislative jurisdiction. The result will be to have those rights and freedoms protected in Ontario under a single legislative shield consisting of the Canadian Bill of Rights and the Ontario Bill of Rights.

The effect of the Bill will be to have the Legislature, out of its respect for those rights and freedoms, limit its powers to enact statutes and regulations.

BILL 18

An Act to establish The Ontario Bill of Rights

WHEREAS the free and democratic society existing in Ontario is founded upon principles, fostered by tradition, that honour and respect human rights and fundamental freedoms and the dignity and worth of the human person; and whereas the Parliament of Canada, being desirous of enshrining certain principles and the human rights and fundamental freedoms derived from them, enacted the Canadian Bill of Rights in order to ensure the protection of those rights and freedoms in Canada in matters coming within its legislative authority; and whereas the Legislature of Ontario, affirming those principles and recognizing the need to ensure the protection of those rights and freedoms in Ontario in matters coming within its legislative authority, desires to enact the Ontario Bill of Rights.

Therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, enacts as follows:

1. It is hereby recognized and declared that in Ontario Declaration of rights and fundamental freedoms there exist, without discrimination by reason of race, national origin, colour, religion or sex, the following human rights and fundamental freedoms, namely,

- (a) the right of the individual to liberty, security of the person and enjoyment of property, and the right not to be deprived thereof except by due process of law;
- (b) the right of the individual to equality before the law and the protection of the law;
- (c) freedom of religion;
- (d) freedom of speech;
- (e) freedom of assembly and association; and

(f) freedom of the press.

Construction and application of statutes and regulations

2. Every statute and regulation of Ontario shall, unless it is expressly declared by an Act of the Legislature that it operates notwithstanding this Act, be so construed and applied as not to abrogate, abridge or infringe or to authorize the abrogation, abridgment or infringement of any of the rights or freedoms herein recognized and declared.

Rights
preserved

3.—(1) Nothing in this Act shall be construed to abrogate or abridge any human right or fundamental freedom not enumerated herein that may have existed in Ontario at the commencement of this Act.

Jurisdiction of Legislature

(2) The provisions of this Act shall be construed as extending only to matters coming within the legislative authority of the Legislature of Ontario.

Notice to Attorney
General

4.—(1) Where in any action or other proceeding a question arises as to whether any law of Ontario abrogates, abridges or infringes, or authorizes the abrogation, abridgment or infringement, of any of the rights and freedoms herein recognized and declared, no adjudication on that question is valid unless notice has been given to the Attorney General.

Attorney
may appear

(2) Where the Attorney General has notice under subsection 1, he may, in person or by counsel, appear and participate in that action or proceeding on such terms and conditions as the court, person or body conducting the proceeding may consider just.

Law of Ontario defined

5. In this Act, “law of Ontario” means,

- (a) any Act of the Legislature of Ontario enacted before, on or after the commencement of this Act; and
- (b) any order, rule or regulation made or approved by the Lieutenant Governor in Council or by a Minister of the Crown before, on or after the commencement of this Act.

An Act to provide for the Review of Rents in respect of Residential Premises

THE HON. J. R. RHODES
Minister of Housing

TORONTO

PRINTED BY J. C. THATCHER, QUEEN'S PRINTER FOR ONTARIO

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The Bill establishes limits on the amounts by which rents charged for residential premises may be increased during the period from July 29th, 1975 to August 1st, 1977.

Among the principal features of the Bill are the following:

1. In respect of leases granting or renewing a right of occupancy between July 29th, 1975 and January 1st, 1976, the maximum increase in rent permitted to be charged during that period is 8 per cent more than the rent charged prior to July 29th, 1975. Any rent paid during that period that is in excess of the 8 per cent limit must be repaid by the landlord to the tenant. Neither the landlord nor the tenant may apply for any variation, either upward or downward, from the maximum permitted increase of 8 per cent. (Section 3 of the Bill).
2. The maximum permitted increase of 8 per cent above that charged prior to July 29th, 1975, continues to apply to rents charged for the period between January 1st, 1976 and August 1st, 1976. During that period however a landlord may apply for a rent increase above the 8 per cent level or a tenant may apply to have a rent increase reduced below 8 per cent. (Section 4 of the Bill).
3. In respect of leases granting or renewing a right of occupancy between August 1st, 1976 and August 1st, 1977, the maximum permitted percentage increase will be that established by order of the Lieutenant Governor in Council. (Section 4 (2) of the Bill).
4. Tenants may not sublet residential premises for a greater rent than that lawfully charged the tenant by his landlord. (Section 8 of the Bill).
5. For the purposes of the Act, regions will be established throughout the Province in each of which regions one or more Rent Review Officers will be located. (Section 2 of the Bill).
6. After January 1st, 1976, a tenant may apply to a Rent Review Officer requiring the landlord to justify the amount of any rent increase; conversely, a landlord may apply to a Rent Review Officer for a rent increase that exceeds the permitted percentage. (Section 4 (3-9) of the Bill).
7. A Residential Premises Rent Review Board is established to hear appeals from decisions of Rent Review Officers. The Board will hold its hearing on any appeal at a location situate in the region where the proceedings were commenced. The decision of the Rent Review Board on any appeal will be final. (Sections 10 and 11 of the Bill).
8. Provision is made in the Bill for the exemption of certain classes of residential premises. (Section 12 of the Bill).

Attorney General

(Reprinted as amended by the Committee of the Whole House)

EXPLANATORY NOTES

The Bill is complementary to The Residential Premises Rent Review Act, 1975, as set out in Bill 20. The principal features found in the Bill are:

1. The extension of the provisions of Part IV of The Landlord and Tenant Act, governing residential tenancies, to mobile homes situate within mobile home parks.
2. The affording of security of tenure to tenants of residential premises.
3. The restructuring of certain provisions of Part IV of the Act to clarify the rights of both landlords and tenants, and to expedite the procedures leading to the appropriate remedy where either party has breached the provisions of Part IV of the Act.
4. The requiring that a landlord give at least ninety days notice of a proposed rent increase.

SECTION 1. Clause c now reads as follows:

- (c) "residential premises" means premises used for residential purposes, and does not include premises occupied for business purposes with living accommodation attached under a single lease;

The effect of the re-enactment is to extend the provisions of the Act to mobile home sites; for clarification, certain specified classes of premises are excluded from the provisions of the Act relating to residential premises.

SECTION 2. The definition section of Part IV of the Act, dealing with residential tenancies, is re-enacted. Clauses a, b and c are new and are designed to clarify the application of sections of the Bill that follow. Clauses d and e do not change the present definition of those expressions.

- (ii) land intended and used as a site for a mobile home used for residential purposes, whether or not the landlord also supplies the mobile home, but does not include,

- (iii) premises occupied for business purposes with living accommodation attached under a single lease unless the tenant occupying the living accommodation is a person other than the person occupying the premises for business purposes, in which case the living accommodation shall be deemed residential premises, or
- (iv) such other class or classes of accommodation as may be designated by the regulations.

2. Section 81 of the said Act is repealed and the following <sup>s. 81,</sup> substituted therefor: <sup>re-enacted</sup>

81. In this Part,

Interpretation

- (a) “caretaker’s premises” means residential premises used for residential purposes by a person employed as a caretaker, janitor, manager, watchman, security guard, or superintendent in respect of the building in which the residential premises are situated;

(e) "tenancy agreement" means an agreement between a tenant and a landlord for possession of residential premises, whether written, oral or implied.

The re-enacted sections of the Act provide the following:

Section 98.—Subsection 1. Except as otherwise provided in the Act, no tenancy is to terminate except upon notice by either the landlord or the tenant to the other, given at least such period of time before the end of the term of the lease as sections 100 to 103a prescribe.

Subsection 2. A tenant is not precluded by subsection 1 from seeking an early termination of his tenancy where the conduct of the landlord has given proper grounds for such action; later sections afford the landlord similar relief.

Subsection 3. Notice of termination is not required in the case of surrender or abandonment.

Section 99. The form and content of a notice of termination are prescribed. In the case of notice given by a landlord, the reasons for the termination must be set out in the notice.

Section 100. Not less than twenty-eight days notice is required to terminate a weekly tenancy.

Section 101. Not less than thirty days notice is required to terminate a monthly tenancy.

Section 102. Not less than sixty days notice is required to terminate a year to year tenancy.

Section 103. Not less than thirty days notice is required to terminate a fixed term tenancy of less than one year.

Section 103a. Not less than sixty days notice is required to terminate a fixed term tenancy of one year or longer.

Section 103b. Special provision is made in the case of a landlord requiring possession of the premises for himself or his family.

Section 103c. The section provides that, upon the expiration of a lease for a fixed term, unless the parties enter into a new agreement, the tenancy continues as a monthly tenancy.

Section 103d. The section provides special procedures to apply where a landlord requires possession for the purposes of demolition, conversion to another use or extensive repair or renovation.

Section 103e. The section provides the procedure for a landlord to terminate a tenancy during its term for non-payment of rent by the tenant. Where a tenant receives a demand for payment of rent, unless he pays the rent owing within seven days, the landlord may apply for an order terminating the tenancy and for a writ of possession.

Section 103f. The section specifies additional grounds, other than non-payment of rent, upon which a landlord may terminate a tenancy during its term. The tenant is afforded a seven day period after notice from the landlord, in which he may discontinue the acts complained of, compensate the landlord or rectify the breach, as the case may require. Failure on the part of the tenant to do so will entitle the landlord to apply for an order terminating the tenancy and for a writ of possession. On a subsequent breach by a tenant, no right to rectify the breach is afforded the tenant prior to the landlord applying for the writ.

Section 103g. The section provides the procedure for termination of a tenancy at the end of its term. Security of tenure is conferred by the provisions of subsection 3, which require the judge hearing an application for an order for a writ of possession to be satisfied that one or more of the causes for termination referred to or set out in that subsection exist, before he makes such an order. ## EXPLANATORY NOTES

The amendment basically requires the use of seat belts in motor vehicles being driven on highways where the motor vehicles are equipped with seat belts in accordance with the Motor Vehicle Safety Act (Canada).

Where a motor vehicle is required by the Motor Vehicle Safety Act (Canada) to be equipped with seat belts, it is an offence to drive that vehicle on the highway if the belts have been modified or removed.

Where seat belts are provided in a motor vehicle, it is an offence to drive that vehicle or to be a passenger in that vehicle on the highway, without wearing the appropriate belts. Exemptions are provided for,

1. a person driving the vehicle in reverse;
2. a person holding a doctor's certificate stating that the person is unable, for medical reasons, to wear a belt;
3. a person who is unable, because of physical characteristics, to wear the belt;
4. a person who is required by the nature of his work to enter and leave the vehicle frequently;
5. a person under the age of sixteen years.

In the case of children between the ages of two and sixteen, the driver of the vehicle commits an offence if he drives the vehicle on the highway without requiring any such child to wear the appropriate belt. Exemptions are provided in respect of children who hold a doctor's certificate stating that they are unable, for medical reasons, to wear a belt, who are unable to wear a belt because of physical characteristics or who are engaged in work which requires them to enter and leave the vehicle frequently.

There is provision for the Lieutenant Governor in Council to make regulations requiring the use of child restraint systems and prescribing specifications therefor and exempting classes of motor vehicles, drivers or passengers from any of the foregoing provisions.

Section 147 (2) of the Act is amended to exempt owners of motor vehicles from liability in respect of the wearing of seat belts where they are not driving the vehicles.

Section 147 (2) at present reads as follows:

- (2) The owner of a motor vehicle or a motor assisted bicycle except when he is also the driver shall not incur the penalties provided for any contravention of any of the provisions of sections 82 to 114, 117, 120, 125 and 139 or any regulation or by-law made or passed thereunder or of any of the provisions of any by-law passed under any Act regulating or prohibiting turns on a highway.

The 1975 amendment striking out "or a motor assisted bicycle" in the first and second lines has not been proclaimed.
